AI Workflow Architect | Agentic Content and Creative Systems

SUMMARY

I build the AI systems that let small teams do big-team work. Over the last year I've turned content, ecommerce and team operations into Claude skills and scheduled automations, about 50 of them used by a full content strategy team, plus a store pipeline that runs a 15,000+ product catalog. I come from 10+ years of design and content, so the work my systems turn out still looks good and reads like a person made it.

EXPERIENCE

Content Strategy Lead (1099 Contract) Jul 2026 to Oct 2026

Media Scaling | Remote

- Built about 50 Claude skills and scheduled tasks that ran the strategy lead workflow, from script writing and QC to video review notes, account audits and weekly reports. Shared them as skill files the whole strategy team used.
- Automated a daily deadline check that read every client's posting schedule, logged a pass or fail for each editor and social media manager to a shared tracker, and drafted Slack reminders for late work.
- Connected Claude to Notion, Slack, Google Drive, Metricool, SocialPruf and Fathom so every client fact lived in one Notion roster that all the automations read from.
- Built a skill that creates a new compliance-aware scriptwriting skill for each client from their own docs, analytics and past winners, so new accounts launched with a consistent script system.
- Set up weekly performance reports, views guarantee tracking and editor, writer and social media manager QC scorecards that ran on a schedule instead of by hand.
- Built visual brand guidelines for 9 client accounts, covering color, type, motion and on-screen layouts, so every editor could match each brand.
- Led content strategy for up to 12 creator and brand accounts at a time (16 over the contract) on TikTok, Instagram, YouTube Shorts and Facebook, including regulated niches like healthcare, lending and a Nasdaq-listed fund.
